

Automate Adobe License Management

Managing and distributing Adobe licenses can be extremely time-consuming for school staff. The process is especially complex when schools need to recover costs or obtain users' consent for data sharing. The Kivuto Cloud platform takes all of the manual work and complexity out of Adobe license management, providing a "set it and forget it" approach for schools.

Automated Provisioning

Free up staff resources by automating the process of providing access to Adobe software.

Automated Deprovisioning

Ensure compliance with licensing terms by automatically revoking users' access as eligibility expires.

Privacy Protection

Stay GDPR-compliant by obtaining users' consent before any of their data is uploaded to the cloud.

Offer Adobe Products Your Way

Kivuto offers two distinct ways for schools to automate the management and distribution of Adobe licenses.

Option 1: Background Process

Want to make accessing Adobe software as quick and seamless for your students as possible?

Kivuto's platform can be set up to operate entirely on the back end. All your students need to do is sign in to the Adobe site with their school-issued email address. The platform handles eligibility verification and license provisioning without any additional steps or clicks by the user.

Option 2: Custom Process

Want to charge students for Adobe products, have them agree to terms and conditions, or get consent to upload their data to the cloud?

With Kivuto's platform, you can customize the process of acquiring Adobe software however you want. This can include extra steps like online payments, securing consent for data sharing, displaying custom messaging, and more.

The Kivuto Difference

Discover the difference Kivuto makes in the management and distribution of Adobe licenses.

	Without Kivuto	With Kivuto
Admin Effort	Continuous Administration Licenses must be provisioned and deprovisioned manually by school staff in the Adobe Admin Console.	Effortless Administration Licenses are automatically provisioned to eligible users on a self-serve basis and deprovisioned as eligibility expires.
End-User Experience	Inconsistent Experience Acquiring software can be confusing and inconvenient at schools that distribute licenses manually.	Seamless Experience Eligible students can simply sign in to the Adobe site with their school ID to acquire a license.
Privacy & Compliance	No Compliance Controls Schools have no easy way to secure users' consent to have their data shared or their acceptance of licensing terms.	Custom Compliance Controls Users can be prompted to accept licensing terms or provide consent for data sharing before acquiring a license.
Reports & Insights	Limited Visibility Staff have no insights into who and how many students are using Adobe software.	Full Visibility Kivuto's on-demand reports provide detailed data on product adoption rates.
End-User Support	Burden on Staff School staff have to address student support requests related to product access and installation.	Handled by Kivuto Kivuto's multilingual support team provides full support for both end users and administrators.
